

We don't know the exact amount of plastic that enters the soil through agriculture and horticulture. About 2,000 tons enter the soil through compost and sewage sludge.

Our soil is at least as polluted as the oceans. But much less studied.

